

VIRTUAL WELCOME

Virtual First Impression

Provide an impressive, brand-centric experience to your customers in your remote briefing setting. Even this virtual style of customer engagement can be automated and personalized for your program's use.

PERSONALIZED WELCOME

While your virtual guests are gathering before the remote session starts, take the opportunity to provide a personalized welcome message for them with your own company branded touch.

TARGETED MEDIA

Set the stage with a more targeted visual approach by having the background media be tailored to your customer's industry or other set value for that the briefing.

CUSTOM CAPABILITIES

Accommodate last minute requests with the option to enter a custom briefing with full agenda details that will allow your team to offer the full virtual welcome experience on-demand as needed.

Personalized First Impression for Remote Briefings

Set the stage for your customer experience upon your guests first joining your video conference by providing them a branded personalized welcome for them to enjoy while waiting.
